Re:	Team 13 App Research (Check-in 1)

Comments: Here is our App Research deliverable for the final project of Hybrid Mobile Development 2023

Overview

- Team 13 plans to make a productivity app for writers to help create templates and story prompts to help boost their creativity.

Our Vision

- Users make selections and provide data to create templates or prompts to use when writing stories.
- Users can create World Templates to define a world setting/environment for their stories.
- Users can create Character Templates to describe characters they want to use in their stories.
- Users can generate story prompts by selecting one genre and providing additional input data to determine the number of characters, character roles and other such parameters.
- Users can link their previous story prompt(s), when generating a new prompt, to allow for a continuation of the original story (additional chapter, act, sequel, etc.)
- Users can make use of a built-in notepad to draft stories based on the prompts they've generated, their world template and character templates.
- Users can change the theme of the app between light and dark mode.
